

How to use it.

Set up in 15 minutes. Run it in 10 a week.

A private place to organise your side.

Atlas is a set of tools for life after separation. It runs in your browser, keeps everything on your device, and asks nothing of your ex.

Six jobs, one tool each

Today

Show me where I am and what needs me.

Week

Help me run the fortnight.

Money

Show me my real numbers.

Records

Keep a clear, dated record.

Admin

Make sure the paperwork doesn't slip.

Scripts

Give me the words for the hard conversations.

Goals and the Companion pack live under More.

Atlas is a structure

a private place to organise your side

a weekly reset, about ten minutes

a practical guide through the mess

Atlas is not a lawyer

a financial adviser

a therapist

a co-parenting referee

a shared app. It's for one household: yours.

Your data lives on this device. Only here.

There's no account, no login and no cloud. That keeps your information private. It also means looking after it is your job.

How it works

Everything you type into Atlas is saved inside the browser you're using, on the device you're holding. It isn't sent to a server. Nobody at Atlas can see it, recover it or reset it.

That means Atlas knows you by browser + address. Safari on your phone and Chrome on your laptop are two separate Atlases, each with its own data. They don't talk to each other.

What wipes your data

- Clearing your browser history, cookies or "website data"
- Using a private or incognito window (nothing is saved at all)
- Deleting the browser, or resetting or replacing the device
- Some phone "storage cleaner" apps

If any of these happen without a backup, your data is gone. There's no way to get it back.

1

Pick one home device.

Use Atlas on the phone or computer you'll keep. Use the same browser each time.

2

Back up once a month, and before any browser update, phone upgrade or clean-out. It takes ten seconds. See page 16.

3

Use a device only you can open.

Atlas has no password of its own, so your phone's lock screen is its lock. If someone else knows your passcode or shares the laptop, they can open Atlas too.

The one habit

Back up at the end of your weekly reset. Today will remind you if it's been more than 30 days.

Your first 15 minutes.

Five steps. Rough numbers are fine. You can change everything later.

1

Choose your phase Today · ~1 min

Open Today. Under the headline, pick the phase closest to where you are: Waiting Room, Survive, Stabilise, Rebuild or New Chapter. Not sure? See page 6.

Atlas uses your phase to suggest tasks, scripts and admin. It never changes your numbers.

2

Add the kids and your custody cycle Week · ~4 min

Week · ~4 min

Tap Set your week → on Today, or open Week and tap Set up →.

- Add each child's name.
- Choose a preset: 5-2, Week about or Custom.
- Set the anchor date: the first day of "Week A".
- Tap any day in the fortnight to switch it between your place and the other home. Then Update calendar.

Today now shows who has the kids, and counts down to the next handover.

3

Add your numbers Money · ~6 min

Tap Add your numbers →. Start with your take-home pay, then housing and the big regular costs. Leave the small stuff for another night.

Then add two or three bills with their next due date: rent, rego, insurance. Today will remind you a week before each one.

4

Log one thing

Records · ~2 min

On Today, under Log something, tap Payment, Incident, Message or Change. Add the date and one line on what happened. Save to Records

Start with something small and recent, like the last school cost you paid. The point is to get the habit started.

5

Save your first backup

~1 min

On Today, tap Back up now. Or go to More → Back up / import data → Export.

A file called `atlas-data-[date].json` downloads. Move it somewhere only you can reach. Page 16 has the detail.

Put Atlas on your home screen

It opens like an app and keeps you in the same browser every time, which keeps your data in one place.

iPhone (Safari)

Tap Share → Add to Home Screen.

Android (Chrome)

Tap : → Add to Home screen or Install app.

You're set up.

That's the whole setup. From here, Atlas works best with ten minutes once a week. Page 7 shows how.

Start where you are.

Atlas follows five phases. Pick the one that fits now, not the one you wish you were in. You can move back as well as forward.

Phase	Start with	Leave for later
1 Waiting Room before the decision "I can see it coming."	A private money snapshot on Money. Documents list on Admin.	Scripts about telling the kids. Goals.
↓
2 Survive roughly 0–6 months "Just keep the wheels on."	Money, your custody cycle on Week, Admin's First 30 days.	Long-term goals. Detailed budgets.
↓
3 Stabilise roughly 6–18 months "Two households are running. Now the paperwork."	Weekly routines on Week, Admin's bank, super and tax lists, Records habit.	Big money moves until the budget is mapped.
↓
4 Rebuild "I'm ready to look forward."	Goals, a money plan, handover checklists that run themselves.	Nothing. This is the building phase.
↓
5 New Chapter "This is just life now."	Long-term goals, future planning, keeping Records tidy.	Anything you've outgrown. Hide it.

Changing phase

Open Today and pick a different phase. Every other page shows your phase as a small chip; tap Change to jump back to Today.

Ten minutes a week. That's the system.

Do this once, before your week starts. The night before a handover works well.

1

Today

Check your phase

30 seconds

Still the same? Good. If something's shifted, change it.

2

Today

Read Today

1 minute

Who has the kids, what needs you, what's due.

3

Week

Update the week

3 minutes

New events, meals, the handover checklist.

4

Money

Look at the money

2 minutes

Anything due? Anything new to add? Mark bills paid.

5

Admin

Tick the admin

2 minutes

Tick what's done. Add what's new.

6

Today

Pick one to three things

1 minute

Add them to Your list. Three is plenty.

Then:

Back up now

Once a week. Before the week starts. Ten minutes at most.

Tuesday 29 September

1

Solo until Thursday.

Kids arrive Thursday 1 October. Handover checklist 2 of 6.

Phase Stabilise ▾

Kids arrive · Thu, 1 Oct

2 days · Thursday

Before they arrive

2 of 6 ready

☐

Uniforms washed

3

W T F S S M T W T F S S M

With you

Solo

Handover

Week →

4 Needs you

3 more after these

Electricity is overdue

$412, due 27 Sept.

Mark paid →

2 bills due this week

$1,310 in total: Rent tomorrow, Car rego Saturday.

See bills →

Get ready for Thursday

Kids arrive Thursday. 2 of 6 on the handover checklist.

Open checklist →

Today

Today. Your front page.

Everything that needs you this week, pulled from the rest of Atlas, on one screen.

- 1

The headline. Who has the kids right now and until when. "Solo until Wednesday." or "Kids with you until Sunday."
- 2

The countdown. It changes with the week:
Before a handover: days to go and your handover checklist. Tick items off right there.
With the kids: "3 of 7 days together", days left and tonight's dinner.
Handover day: "Today", plus what's next.
- 3

The next 14 days. Your fortnight at a glance. Tap it to open Week.
- 4

Needs you. Up to three things, most urgent first.

Just below: Log something, four buttons that save straight into Records (page 5).

The 14-day key

☐ With you

☐ Solo

☒ Handover

☐ Today

Do this first

Pick your phase.

Kids arrive · Thu, 1 Oct

2 days · Thursday

Before they arrive

2 of 6 ready

☐

Uniforms washed

Next 7 days

Open Week →

Today 29

Solo

Wed 30

$530 Rent

16:00 Swimming

Thu 1

Kids arrive

17:30 Soccer training

Fri 2

Kids with you

Sat 3

$780 Car rego

Sun 4

Term 3 ends

Mon 5

08:15 School drop-off

09:00 Soccer final

15:10 School pickup

Kids with you

Money this month

Open Money →

$839 left

Monthly estimate after planned costs

Separation costs so far

See costs →

$2,880

Legal, mediation, moving and setting up.

Your list

1 of 3 done

☐

Book Ollie's dentist

×

☐

Send term fees receipt

×

☒

Reply to school about the excursion form

×

Add something...

+

Clear completed

Find the words

All 68 →

For Thursday's handover.

Asking for flexibility on a specific date

Your ex

Handling a schedule dispute without escalating

Today

What Today watches for you.

What can show up in Needs you

A handover coming up

A bill that's overdue or due within a week, with Mark paid right there

Money running short this month

Money or your custody cycle not set up yet

Important dates this week

Your next First 30 days task from Admin, with Mark done (Waiting Room, Survive and Stabilise only)

Nothing logged in Records for 14 days

No backup in 30 days

When nothing is due, you'll see one calm line for your phase. That's the goal.

you

3 more :

icity is overdue

ue 27 Sept.

paid →

due this week

in total: Rent tomorrow, Car rego ills →

ady for Thursday

ve Thursday. 2 of 6 on the hand

t.

checklist →

Further down

Money this month and Your record: two numbers, each linking to its page.

Your list: your own to-dos. Until you edit it, Atlas suggests three for your phase. Once you change it, it's yours.

Find the words: three scripts picked for what's coming up, like a handover or school event. All 68 → opens Scripts.

Rough night?: support lines, any hour.

Backup: when you last backed up, and Back up now.

Good to know

Today doesn't store anything of its own. It reads from Week, Money, Records and Admin, so fixing something there fixes it here.

9

Week

Week. Make room for real life.

Handovers, school runs, meals and the days in between, so the fortnight isn't living in your head.

- 1 The fortnight. Your 14 days. White is with you, faint is solo, a lime dot is a handover.
- 2 Today and tomorrow. What's on, and whether it's a kids day.
- 3 Next handover. When it is, and what's left on the checklist.
- 4 Print fridge sheet. A one-page family snapshot for the fridge, a carer or the other home.
- 5 Schedule. Add an event, pick the day and which child. Tick Every week for things that repeat. Untick it to pick an exact date instead. Export to calendar (.ics) sends it to your phone's calendar.

Handover checklist

Three lists: Before they arrive, During the run and After handover. Ticks clear themselves when the next handover comes round.

Do this first

Kids & custody cycle. Until it's set, it sits at the top of the page.

Also under More: term and special dates, meals, house rules, chores and week notes.

Good to know: Kids & custody cycle is set once and lives at the bottom of Week. To change it, tap the kids' avatars at the top of the page.

2

Monthly

Annual

Print snapshot

5

This month at a glance

Spent 86%

Surplus 14%

1

Surplus

$839/mo

after everything · $300/mo to savings

Take-Home

$5,981/mo

after tax & super

Total Out

$5,142/mo

all expenses & CS

Separation Load

19%

CS + kids monthly

Runway

—

add cash to net worth

Bills and due dates

3

What's due next

+ Add a bill

Electricity

Overdue since Sun, 27 Sept · quarterly

$412

4

Paid ✓

Edit

×

Rent

Due tomorrow · weekly

$530

Paid ✓

Edit

×

Car rego

Due Sat, 3 Oct · yearly

$780

Paid ✓

Edit

×

Phone

Due Sun, 11 Oct · monthly

$65

Paid ✓

Edit

×

Money

Money. Know where you stand.

What comes in, what goes out and what's left, without needing to be a spreadsheet person.

- 1

This month at a glance. Spent, surplus, take-home, total out, separation load (child support plus kids costs) and runway: how long your savings would last if income stopped.
- 2

Monthly / Annual. Flip every figure between the two.
- 3

Bills and due dates. Add a bill with its amount, next due date and how often it repeats. Quick-add chips fill the amount from your budget.
- 4

Paid ✓. Moves a bill to its next due date. Monthly bills keep their day. One-off bills disappear once paid.
- 5

Print snapshot. A clean one-page summary.

Do this first Take-home pay, then housing.

Good to know

Your phase never changes your totals. Anything with an amount always counts. Phase only changes which empty lines Atlas suggests.

Money

Budget, child support and separation costs.

Your budget

Your budget is grouped into sections. Fill the ones that apply. Skip the rest.

- Income
- Housing & fixed
- Kids (your time)
- Co-parenting costs
- Child support
- Personal
- Subscriptions
- Savings & goals
- Net worth

Separation costs under More on Money

Lawyers, mediation, moving, setting up a new place. These are lump sums, so Atlas tracks them apart from your monthly budget to keep your month honest. Give each one an optional budget and log payments against it. The total also shows on Today.

Transition costs

Separation Costs

Lump-sum payments — legal, mediation, setting up the new place. Tracked separately from your monthly budget so they don't distort cash flow.

Child support estimate

Enter both parents' adjusted taxable income, whether either of you got an income support payment last financial year, the number of children and your nights per fortnight.

Atlas shows an estimate of what you'd pay or receive.

Use estimate for budget adds it to your numbers.

This is an estimate using the basic formula and 2026 rates, for one case between two parents with the same care for every child. It isn't an assessment. Only Services Australia's figure applies to you. Check it with their official calculator.

Child 1

Under 1313 and over

Child 2

Under 1313 and over

Your nights per fortnight

7 nights · 50% care

Estimated child support

$233/mo

You pay · $2,800/yr

Your income share 62.26% – your cost share 50% (50% care) = 12.26% of $11,421 a child (costs of $22,842/yr).

Basic formula with 2026 rates. It handles one case between two parents with the same care for every child. It doesn't cover other dependent children, multiple cases, non-parent carers, court orders, child support agreements or change of assessment decisions, and assumes Services Australia hasn't decided the fixed rate shouldn't apply. Always verify your figure using the official Services Australia child support calculator or speak to a CSA-registered adviser.

Use estimate for budget

Estimator stays editable for scenario testing.

Add an entry

Twenty seconds. Date, what happened, done.

1

Payment

Incident

Communication

Schedule change

Amount, who paid, what it was for. Note where the receipt lives if it matters.

Date

What happened

2

29/09/2026

School shoes

Amount

Who paid

0.00

I paid

3

More detail (optional)

Save entry

Stays in your browser like everything else in Atlas.
Nothing is sent anywhere. Back it up from Admin →
Move data.

Records

Records. Less to keep in your head.

Payments, incidents, messages and schedule changes, dated and in one place. When someone official asks, you have it.

1

Four types. Payment, Incident, Communication, Schedule change.

2

Twenty seconds. Date, what happened, done. Amount and who paid for payments.

3

More detail (optional). Which kid, where the receipt lives, notes.

4

The record so far. What you've paid, what they've paid and the difference. Raw totals only. What's owed depends on what you've agreed.

5

Export the dossier. A clean, dated PDF of everything, for a lawyer, a mediator or your own peace of mind.

The record so far

Entries

7

Covering

Aug 2026 – Sept 2026

Payments

You've paid

4

339

They've paid

$180

Difference

$159 more from you

Raw totals only. What's owed depends on what you've agreed — the record just keeps the numbers honest.

5

Export the dossier

A clean, dated PDF of everything — built for lawyers, mediators and your own peace of mind.

Write it like this

14 Mar. Paid $85 for Ruby's school shoes. Receipt in email.

21 Mar. Handover moved from 5pm to 7pm by text at 3:40pm.

Not like this

~~Had to pay for shoes AGAIN because they never do.~~

~~They were late as usual and didn't care.~~

Short beats long. Dates and amounts beat adjectives. Log money the day it happens. For the kids, log what changed, not how you felt about it.

Good to know

Milestones & key facts (under More) holds the dates worth keeping, like when you separated or when orders were made. They print as page one of the dossier.

Admin progress

1

45 of 119 done

Reset checklist

Print checklist

2

First 30 days

9 / 17 >

3

Bank, super & insurance

12 / 18 >

4

Open a bank account solely in your name

Update salary payments and direct debits to your new account

Download recent bank, credit card and loan statements before access changes

Review access to joint accounts and

The six lists

First 30 days	17
Identity, legal & documents	32
Bank, super & insurance	18
Government, tax & payments	16
Home, property & utilities	18
Kids, school & medical	18

Admin

Admin. One practical thing at a time.

The paperwork that quietly becomes expensive if it slips: accounts, documents, super, school, medical.

- 1

Admin progress. How much is done across every list.
- 2

Print checklist. Take it to an appointment.
- 3

Focus now. The lists that matter most in your phase are highlighted in peach. In Survive, that's First 30 days, Identity and documents, and Bank and super.
- 4

Tick, add, remove. Tick what's done. Add your own items at the bottom of any list. Remove anything that doesn't apply.

Do this first

Open First 30 days, even if you're past day 30. Tick what's already done.

Good to know

In the early phases, your next First 30 days task shows up on Today. Marking it done there ticks it here too.

More tools, under More.

Scripts

More → Scripts

68 scripts for the conversations you need to have and don't know how to start. The opening is close to verbatim. The rest is yours.

- Filter by phase, or by topic: Getting started, Money, The kids, Admin & legal, You.
- The Reading tab holds longer guides, including what each phase means.
- Today picks three for what's coming up.

Schedule change · opening line

[TBC: pull one opening line from scripts-data.js]

Goals

More → Goals

When you're ready to look forward. Keep up to three active goals, pick from suggestions for your phase, and track progress. Add an anchor line that keeps you grounded.

Companion pack

More → Companion pack

Six printable PDFs for the decisions worth slowing down: budgets, handovers, admin, rebuilding. Use the app to run things. Use the pack when you need to think something through on paper. Each pack is paired with a tool in the app.

Back up. Restore. Move devices.

A backup is one small file. With it, you can rebuild Atlas on any device in a minute.

Back up

- 1 Tap Back up now on Today, or go to More → Back up / import data.
- 2 Tap Export.

Move your data

Export your Atlas data to move it to another browser device. Import on the new device to restore everything.

- 3 A file called `atlas-data-[date].json` downloads.
- 4 Move it somewhere only you can reach.

Restore on a new device

- 1 Open `app.get-atlas.com.au` in the browser you'll use from now on.
- 2 Go to More → Back up / import data.
- 3 Tap Import and choose your backup file.
- 4 Atlas reloads. Check Week, Money and Records.
- 5 Save a fresh backup from the new device.

Importing replaces the matching data on that device with what's in the file.

Where the file goes

Mac or PC: your Downloads folder.

iPhone: Files app → Downloads (Safari may ask first).

Android: Files → Downloads.

When to back up

Once a month. Before a phone upgrade, a browser update or clearing anything. Before you Delete all records or Reset checklist.

Your backup is a plain file.

Anyone who opens it can read everything in it. Keep it in a place only you control, not a shared family folder or a shared computer.

Print it. Share what's useful.

Atlas stays on your device, but every main page prints cleanly. You choose what leaves, and who sees it.

Print	Where	Useful for
 Records dossier	Records → Export the dossier	Your lawyer, mediator, or a family report writer
 Money snapshot	Money → Print snapshot	A financial counsellor, accountant or mediator
 Fridge sheet	Week → Print fridge sheet	Your fridge, a carer, grandparents, the other home
 Admin checklist	Admin → Print checklist	Appointments with a lawyer, bank or Services Australia
 Goals	Goals → Print goals	Yourself, or a counsellor or coach
 Scripts	Scripts → print	Keeping a script beside you before a hard call

To save as a PDF instead of printing, choose Save as PDF in the print dialog.

Before you share

- Read it through first. Records includes everything you've logged.
- Private notes, like "One thing I want to remember about this time", never print in the dossier.
- The fridge sheet is the only print designed to go to the other home.

When something looks wrong.

My data's gone.

Check you're in the same browser, on the same device, at the same address, and not in a private window. If it's still gone, import your latest backup (page 16). Without a backup, it can't be recovered.

It's different on my phone and my laptop.

That's expected. Each browser keeps its own Atlas. Choose one home device and use the other only after importing a backup. Changes don't sync back.

"This browser can't save your changes."

You're in a private window, or website data is turned off. Open Atlas in a normal window.

Can my ex see this?

Not unless they can open your device and your browser. Atlas sends nothing anywhere. Protect your device with a passcode only you know.

Can we both use it?

No. Atlas organises your side only. There's no invitation or shared view, by design.

The countdown or fortnight is wrong.

Check the anchor date in Week → Kids & custody cycle. It should be day one of Week A.

A handover checklist has old ticks.

Ticks clear when the next handover arrives. To clear early, use Reset all on Week.

My child support figure doesn't match Services Australia.

Theirs is the one that counts. Atlas uses the basic formula only. Differences usually come from income definitions, other children or special arrangements.

I got a new phone.

Back up on the old one, then import on the new one. Page 16.

I'm moving from the old Atlas app.

In the old app, go to Admin → Move data → Export. In the new one, go to More → Back up / import data → Import.

When it's more than admin.

Some nights the list isn't the problem. These lines are there any hour.

Emergency

If you or someone else is in danger

000

Lifeline

Crisis support, 24/7

13 11 14

MensLine Australia

Support for men, 24/7

1300 78 99 78

1800RESPECT

Family, domestic and sexual violence, 24/7

1800 737 732

Family Relationship Advice Line

Family law information and referrals [TBC: confirm hours]

1800 050 321

These numbers also sit on Today under Rough night?

When to get professional help

Atlas helps you get organised. It doesn't replace a lawyer, mediator, financial counsellor, GP or psychologist. If a decision involves property, parenting orders, super, tax or your safety, talk to someone qualified. Take your Records dossier and Money snapshot with you.

One household is enough. Run yours well, one week at a time.

Life after separation.

App	app.get-atlas.com.au
Articles and guides	get-atlas.com.au
Contact	hello@get-atlas.com.au

Atlas is a structure, not advice. It is not legal, financial, tax or therapeutic advice. Child support figures are estimates only.

User guide v1.1 · October 2026 · © 2026 Atlas